

Robert Half recognised as one of Australia's Best Workplaces™ for Women 2025 by Great Place to Work™ Australia

Sydney, Australia — Specialised recruiter Robert Half is proud to be recognised as one of Australia's Best Workplaces™ for Women 2025 by Great Place to Work™. This annual list celebrates organisations that excel in creating a workplace culture that empowers, supports, and champions women at all levels.

The 2025 list was determined through Great Place To Work's rigorous For All™ methodology, which evaluates hundreds of Certified™ organisations across Australia. This includes confidential employee feedback gathered through the Trust Index™ survey, a comprehensive analysis of women's representation at all organisational levels, and additional insights from the Workplace Gender Equality Agency (WGEA).

Organisations are assessed based on their ability to provide consistently positive experiences for women while ensuring gender balance and representation that exceeds industry standards. To qualify, companies must be Great Place To Work-Certified™, employ at least 50 women, and demonstrate statistically significant survey results.

In announcing the award, David Jones, Senior Managing Director of Robert Half APAC said, "This accolade reflects our strong commitment to supporting the success of our female employees and fostering an inclusive environment where all women can thrive. As we celebrate this accomplishment – and International Women's Day – we remain committed to ensuring all employees feel valued and supported."

Rebecca Moulynox, General Manager of Great Place To Work Australia and New Zealand, emphasised both the economic and cultural significance of advancing women in the workplace:

"This year's list celebrates organisations redefining support for women in the workplace through meaningful opportunities and empowerment."

"These companies set an important example for others to follow, proving that investing in women's success drives long-term benefits for businesses and communities." Moulynox said.

Discover the full list of Australia's Best Workplaces™ for Women and learn more about their inspiring achievements at <https://greatplacetowork.com.au/australia-best-workplaces-for-women-2025/>

About the Great Place to Work® Best Workplaces™ for Women List 2025

The 2025 list was determined through Great Place To Work's rigorous For All™ methodology, which evaluates hundreds of Certified™ organisations across Australia. This includes confidential employee feedback gathered through the Trust Index™ survey, a comprehensive analysis of women's representation at all organisational levels, and additional insights from the Workplace Gender Equality Agency (WGEA). Organisations are assessed based on their ability to provide consistently positive experiences for women while ensuring gender balance and representation that exceeds industry standards. To qualify, companies must be Great Place To Work-Certified™, employ at least 50 women, and demonstrate statistically significant survey results.

About Great Place To Work®
Great Place To Work® is the global authority on workplace culture. Since 1992, they have surveyed over 100 million employees worldwide and used those insights to define what makes a great workplace: trust. Their mission is to help every organisation become a great place to work for all. Their data-driven methodology empowers organisations to create positive employee experiences, enhance workplace culture, and unlock human potential.

For more information about the 2025 Best Workplaces™ for Women, visit <https://greatplacetowork.com.au/australia-best-workplaces-for-women-2025/>

Contact:

Courtney Fletcher

Public Relations Manager

Courtney.fletcher@roberthalf.com.au

0421 209 304